ORIX Enters First Alliance with Bank for Contractor Guarantee Factoring Service

TOKYO, Japan – July 7, 2011 – ORIX Corporation (TSE: 8591; NYSE: IX), a leading integrated financial services group, announced today that it entered into an alliance with Okayama Prefecture-based Tomato Bank, Ltd. (hereinafter “Tomato Bank”), and will expand its Contractor Guarantee Factoring Service to Tomato Bank clients.

Applications for this service will be accepted at the main office and other branches of Tomato Bank (excluding the internet-only Momotaro branch) starting on July 11. ORIX is the first in Japan to form an alliance with a financial institution for the provision of this service.

Guarantee factoring is a service based on the Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism’s system where support providers guarantee subcontractor accounts receivable (hereinafter “subcontractor guarantee system”). Under this service, ORIX, upon screening the prime contractor, guarantees 100% of credit obligations such as construction expenses and accounts receivable of the prime contractor held by clients such as subcontractors and materials suppliers.

Clients are able to hedge the risk of uncollected expenses from prime contractors by paying ORIX a set guarantee fee and system use fee. In addition, as a portion of the guarantee fee paid to ORIX is subsidized by the Fund for Construction Industry Promotion, the client can enter into an agreement by only paying the difference of the guarantee fee and subsidy.

ORIX was authorized by the Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism as a guarantee factoring provider under the subcontractor guarantee system in March 2010. Starting in June, ORIX has expanded the service area to cover all of Japan and increased the maximum underwriting amount to 200 million yen. Through the alliance with Tomato Bank, which has a solid operating base in Okayama Prefecture, ORIX aims to further expand this service as well as cultivate new clients and increase orders.

ORIX will continue to promote alliances and cooperation with regional financial institutions in a variety of areas and provide financial services that meet a wide range of client needs.
