Merger of ORIX Eco Services and Funabashi Eco Services

TOKYO, Japan — April 1, 2013 — ORIX Eco Services Corporation and Funabashi Eco Services Corporation have announced that they will merge as of today. The merged company will be called ORIX Eco Services Corporation and the president will be Kotaro Maroyama.

ORIX Eco Services was established in 1998 as the ORIX Group's environmental services business division. It provides Regional Recycling Systems for the collection, reuse and recycling of end-of-lease ORIX Group assets, and equipment and facilities no longer needed by companies, as well as other support for proper recycling. Meanwhile, Funabashi Eco Services joined the ORIX Group in 2008, and has been providing industrial waste collection and transportation, and intermediate waste processing services, mainly in Funabashi City, Chiba Prefecture.

The merger announced today is aimed at enhancing services for customers by improving management efficiency and expanding business through the integration of the two companies' business activities.
