

ORIX Invests in Major Medical Equipment Sales Company Apex Holdings

TOKYO, Japan – March 31, 2025 – ORIX Corporation ("ORIX") announced today that it has acquired all the shares of Apex Holdings Co., Ltd. ("ApexHD"), a major medical equipment sales company.

ApexHD forms a group of four operating companies centered around Apex Co., Ltd., and sells medical equipment used in the diagnosis and treatment of cardiovascular diseases, mainly heart disease, one of the three major diseases among Japanese people. ApexHD has many specialists with extensive experience and expertise in the cardiovascular field, which requires a high degree of specialty. It has earned strong trust from customers of major medical institutions such as university hospitals as well as national and public hospitals, mainly in the Kanto and Tokai regions.

ORIX has positioned healthcare as one of its key focus areas for business investment in Japan. In 2015, it acquired all shares of INNOMEDICS Medical Instruments Inc.*, a comprehensive medical equipment sales company operating primarily in the Tokyo metropolitan area, and in 2023, all shares of Dynamedic Japan Inc., a medical equipment sales company in the cardiovascular field specializing in arrhythmia. Through this latest investment, ORIX aims to expand its business fields in the medical equipment business area while promoting mutual cooperation in procurement and sales and marketing networks between its existing portfolio companies and ApexHD. ORIX will be forming a group of medical equipment sales companies with a robust foundation.

ORIX will continue to draw on its accumulated experience and expertise in business investment to support the business growth of companies and contribute to the further advancement of the medical equipment sales industry, one of the backbones of the medical industry in Japan.
